Subject Line: Soft, Organic Sleep Mask Puts Busyness to Bed

Dear Busy Woman of the World,

I know you want to do and be your best every day. You love what you do, but it is demanding. You put your family first, yet doubt if you have time to get a haircut.

As a busy woman myself, I know how hard it is to juggle all the demands of your life - and take care of yourself at the same time.

How do you find the right balance in today's busy world?

- Block distractions for better sleep
One way to ensure you stay healthy and focused is to get restful sleep each night. That is sometimes challenging when you are busy, stressed or trying to meet deadlines. Especially if your sleep environment is part of the problem.
- Eliminate blue lights
HEPA filters ionize the air, but the blue light may keep you awake. Remove or cover blue light objects in the room.
- Darken your bedroom
Perhaps your building has a great security light system, but it brightens the blinds at night. Make your bedroom as dark as possible for a good night's rest.
- Adjust for travel needs
Sleeping on a plane is difficult at best. Doing it with all the visual distractions is almost impossible. Using an eye mask - and earplugs - can block things that interfere with sleep.

Soft, Organic Eye Mask to Ease Sleep Problems

Fortunately there are easy, organic ways to sleep better. One way is to use an eye mask. A simple covering for your eyes which blocks out light. There are many on the market. But they are not all the same.
